wonderful fruition this would be of a vision to link ideas with environmental stewardship, teamwork, stamina, and powers of observation. Strauss appreciated the opportunity as resilience, it ties in nicely with the attributes that are part of playing on a sports team: the whole person. At the center of the CURes Mission is the goal of building resilient coaching participant allowed Dr. Strauss to support the Jesuit model of education of the Women’s Basketball Team, participated...